Dear Mr. Weisberg:

I am writing to thank you for your reply to my letter, in which I asked about how to obtain documents from the National Archives and the FBI. It was a great help. I sent my requests, and I must now wait for a reply.

I am sorry to hear about your health. I hope you feel better very soon.

I am having a little trouble finding an address for the Dallas coroner's office, but I will keep on looking.

There is no need for you to reply, Mr. Weisberg. I just wanted to let you know how much I appreciate your help. I have written to several authors and researchers, and you are one of only two to personally reply to my letters. For that, I am grateful. And again, I wish you good health in the future.

Sincerely,

Lawrence W. Lee, Jr.
